

Reward of Industry. Salt Lake Tribune.

A few days ago a poor friendless lad might have been seen wandering along the streets looking for employment. He presently halted in front of a butcher shop and walked boldly up to the proprietor and asked for a job. There was something in the young man's frank, honest countenance which struck the proprietor favorably.

"Not afraid of hard work?" he asked.

"No," responded the lad with a trembling voice, "I have supported my mother and two sisters for five years by hard work."

He was put on trial at $5 a week mauling leathery beef, and his sturdy frame and health constitution came in good play. One day an old lady came in to get some beef, and the proprietor told him to attend to the customer.

"A tenderloin steak, if you please," said she.

"Here's a cut that nobody but the first families get," responded the boy smilingly as he sliced off four pounds of tough round and cast it with a heavy hand on the scales, jamming it down with a quick, dexterous moment, until the indicator marked six even pounds. Then he snatched it off before the delicate machinery, used to weigh beef, had time to recoil.

"Six pounds and a half, madam," he said, looking her square in the face with his clear, blue, eyes.

The proprietor of the stall called him in that night, and remarking that he had watched his course carefully, added that as a reward for his quick, comprehensive grasp of the business he would raise his salary to $25 a week. This shows the advantage of doing everything well, and when the boy's mother back in New Jersey hears of his success there will be joy in that household. Young men starting in life should learn to adapt themselves to their surroundings and never let an opportunity pass.

Charcoal For Sick Animals.

In nine cases out of ten when an animal is sick the digestion is wrong. Charcoal is the most efficient and rapid corrective. The hired man came in with the intelligence that one of the finest cows was very sick, and a kind neighbor proposed the usual drugs and poisons. The owner being ill and unable to examine the cow concluded that the trouble came from over eating and ordered a teaspoonful of pulverized charcoal to be given in water. It was mixed, placed in a junk bottle, the head turned upward, and the water downward. In five minutes improvement was visible, and in a few hours the animal was in the pasture grazing. Another instance of equal success occurred with a young heifer which had become badly bloated by eating green apples after a hard wind. The bloat was so severe that the sides were as hard as a barrel. The old remedy, saleratus, was tried for correcting the acidity. But the attempt to put it down always raised coughing, and it did little good. Half a teacup of fresh powdered charcoal was given: In six hours all appearance of the bloat was gone, and the heifer was well.

A bill was passed by the Kentucky Legislature yesterday amending the act incorporating the Newport and Covington Bridge Company. The bill gives the right of reconstructing the bridge, which is considered to be in an unsafe condition.
